

Reed Relay Label Change Notification

This notification is to inform you of Pickering's new labelling method that will start to appear on our reed relays from March 2023. This transition to the new laser marking method will occur over a number of months. During this transitional period, some shipments may contain a mix of current and new labelling on reed relays being sold.

There are no technical specification changes to these reed relays, it is just an improvement in labelling part numbers onto the relays, benefits include:

- Laser printing is even more robust and permanent than offset printing.
- More environmentally friendly; eliminating the use of inks and solvents.
- Offers higher print resolution.

Current Printing Method

New Laser Marking Method

Thank you for your continued support of Pickering Reed Relays. Should you have any questions or concerns regarding this change notification, please contact us or your local representative.